The Girls Strike Seems Practically Ended.

MANY RETURN TO WORK

Mr. Whitlock Will Take Back All but a Dozen—Storekeeper Nelson, of the Ship Works Killed by Southern Railway Train—A Printer and Young Lady En Route to Gretna Green.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.) Richmond, Va., June 25.—The strike at the Whitlock tobacco factory seems practically ended, about $50 of the 1,200 girls having returned to work.

One hundred and fifty or two hundred girls came to the factory for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Whitlock regarding being taken back, but bringing no lunch. Mr. Whitlock took them back, but they could not work as lunch was not brought with them. They all said they would work to-morrow.

A DOZEN REJECTED. "There will not be over a dozen girls whom we will not take back," said Mr. Philip Whitlock to the Virginian-Pilot correspondent to-day. "About that number seems to have led the girls. We will not take them back. We do not wish further trouble. The best way to avoid it is to keep them out of the factory. I do not think there will be any difficulty in the future. I may say, also, that I do not think there would have been any in the past had the girls been let alone. Outside influence was brought to bear upon them. The girls, when they realized what striking meant, at least, the majority of them, wished to go to work again. They knew they were well treated and well paid. I have always done the very best for them. I could not have given them the best wages possible. I have looked after their comforts while working. I have done all I could for them in every way. I liked them; I thought they liked me, and I believe they do, in spite of the strike. They were led away by agitators."

Mr. Whitlock stated that many of the girls who returned to work came and personally asked his pardon.

A PLEDGE EXACTED. Every worker who came back gave her word that she would not in the future create trouble of any character. Those not willing to make such a promise will not be allowed to resume work. None of the leaders of the strike have asked to be taken back. Mr. Whitlock said he was glad of this, as he did not wish to have to refuse them. He seems very determined to keep off the pay-roll for good the girls chiefly conspicuous in leading the strikers. Several of these came to the office yesterday and secured the money due them. They said nothing concerning returning to work, and Mr. Whitlock said nothing.

When the girls came to work this morning at 7 o'clock, they found many of the strikers on Twenty-sixth street ready to use every method of persuasion to induce them to remain out. They met with little success.

TAKEN BACK IN SQUADS. The girls were taken back in squads of six or eight. They were first interviewed by Mr. Whitlock, or one of his representatives. A promise to create no further trouble was made in every case.

A RULE SUSPENDED. The girls have won little for Mr. Whitlock has consented to suspend for one month the rule requiring a girl to bring her ticket every time she took up her work to the inspector, or losing the pay therefor. He still insists, however, that this rule was for the good of the workers, as it prevented poor workers palming off their work as that of others. In this way injustice involving loss of pay, is done. He reserves the right to restore the rule at the end of the 30 days.

PROMINENT CITIZEN KILLED. Mr. James Nelson, weight master and store keeper for the W. R. Trigg Shipbuilding Company, was run over and killed by a train on the Southern Railway at 11:40 o'clock this morning. His body was terribly mangled and was dragged 150 feet by actual measurement.

Mr. Nelson, who was the father of Mr. James A. Nelson, the superintendent of the Trigg shipyards, was about fifty-five years old. He came here with his son from Connecticut. The accident occurred on the strip of land between the dock and the river, near the foot of Seventeenth street. Mr. Nelson was walking either on the track or very close to the rails and was approaching the gate that leads into the shipyards.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY. It is understood that the City Democratic Committee will be called to meet Friday night to fix the date and adopt a plan for the primary election for the nomination of five candidates for the House.

Chairman Wallace will be asked Wednesday to convene the committee. Advocates of the early primary said to-day they have a clear majority of the members. One of the opponents of the movement now admits that it looks as if his side would be defeated.

It is probably that the plan will be ready for consideration when the committee meets.

The date now suggested for the primary is August 10th.

ON MARRIAGE INTENT. Mr. Frank S. Lyons, of Newport News, and Miss Minnie L. Reidy, of this city, will leave for Washington to-morrow morning where they will be united in marriage.

Mr. Lyons is quite well known in this city, where he resided for several years and pursued his vocation as a printer. He is one of the most popular and highly esteemed members of his craft, and at present is foreman of the Daily Press, Newport News.

TOWN OF SUFFOLK

Mrs. Alice Jones Passes to Her Reward.

Desirous of Preventing Truck Laying—Complimentary to a Norfolk Lady—Sunday Rifle Practice—Candidate for the Senate—Interment.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.) Suffolk, Va., June 26.—Mrs. Alice Jones is dead. The end came about 4 o'clock this morning at the Stuart House. The death-bed was surrounded by friends and loved ones of the deceased. Mrs. Jones had been ill several months with consumption. There were occasional symptoms of improvement, but they were only temporary. The funeral will take place at 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the Christian Church. Mrs. Jones was a member of that church.

Mrs. Jones was a good Christian woman, a constant friend, a loyal wife, a devoted mother. Her life work was in rearing and educating her children. She leaves five—Miss Lizzie Channell and Lillian, Kittle, May, Alice and Cliff Jones. Mrs. Jones' maiden name was Stallings. She was a relict of the late C. Jones, proprietor of the Stuart House. Since his death she has run the hostelry in a model manner. She knew how to direct the preparation of dinner. She knew how to serve it. Her name and table were known to many traveling men.

WANT AN INJUNCTION. Three Southampton attorneys were in town to-day to argue an injunction before Circuit Judge Prentiss. F. T. Hill wants to enjoin the Camp Manufacturing Company from running tracks over his road. John N. Schrell, Jr., represents Hill. The Camps' attorneys are John C. Parker and William Shands. The argument was continued till July 27th.

ACCOMPLISHED YOUNG WOMAN. The Richmond Times of last Sunday printed a double-column photo of Miss Frances L. Quimby, of Suffolk. The following write-up was appended:

"Miss Frances Loryna Quimby is the second daughter of the late Major W. M. Quimby, of the Twelfth New York Infantry. Her ancestors were the Murphys and Lanes, of England; the Brooks and Davises, of New England; and the Randalls, of New York. Suffolk has been her home from babyhood. A student of music at five years under the instruction of her aunt, Mrs. Fanny Murphy, she has since devoted herself to the art, studying the organ with Mr. J. J. Miller, of Christ Church, Norfolk, and taking the Carl Feilston Pianoforte Course in Boston. "Miss Quimby's great-grandfather was one of the founders of Rochester, N. Y. He was Aldrich Colvin. Miss Quimby is one of the musical directors in Nansemond Seminary, of which her mother is principal. "Brains and instinct to use them are a natural inheritance from her fine ancestral stock. Miss Quimby has youth, talent, beauty and high purpose."

HIS KNOWN HERE. His friends in Suffolk were sorry to read Sunday's Virginian-Pilot of Harry Keefe's being in prison and demented. Keefe used to play ball on the Suffolk team. That was three years ago.

SUNDAY RIFLE PRACTICE. Euclid Day and his little gun helped to desecrate the Sabbath last Sunday. They also violated the town ordinance. That was why Euclid was up before Mayor Brewer in Police Court this morning. Euclid fired a rifle on the streets and endangered the lives of people and chickens. Judge Brewer made it $4.00.

AFTER THE SENATE. William Shands, former attorney in Southampton county, was in Suffolk to-day. Mr. Shands is an avowed candidate for the State Senate and he is now the only candidate except Colonel R. E. Boykin, incumbent. Mr. Shands says he expects to come to the district convention with Southampton's unbroken vote behind him. He claims that county hasn't had the job for two decades or more.

INSURANCE PAID. Mr. A. A. Riddick to-day turned over to William T. Holland's estate a Mutual Life check for $1,000. That was the amount of insurance carried by Mr. Holland. He died June 12.

REV. REED'S BURIAL. The burial of the late Rev. J. T. Reed, who died Saturday night at Port Norfolk, took place this afternoon in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Suffolk. The funeral was preached in Port Norfolk at 1 o'clock to-day. Dr. W. W. Staley read a burial service here. These were pallbearers: Drs. A. W. Eley, W. D. Wood and H. W. Campbell; Captain George T. Parker and Messrs. W. L. McLeod and A. A. Riddick.

The deceased once lived in Suffolk. He was a local Methodist preacher for many years. His age at death was 75 years. He was the father of Mrs. C. W. Steele, of Port Norfolk, and the late Mrs. J. C. West, whose widow lives in Suffolk. Misses Nettie and Birdie West and Herbert and Joshua West were the deceased's grand children.

NO CONFLICT. Since the appointment of Mr. H. E. Smith as Census Supervisor the question has been raised as to whether the duties would conflict with those of Clerk of Markets. Mr. Smith says not. He will not have to begin the census work for nearly a year hence.

ABOUT PEOPLE. Miss Jennie Bissell Briggs, who taught school last session at Wytheville, Va., returned to her home in Suffolk to-day. She had been visiting in Washington since closing school.
